The Delegates to the Democratic Convention are requested to be on hand promptly on Tuesday morning the 13th inst, with their returns, so that the Convention can be called to order at ten o'clock sharp, at the Opera House, and an organization be effected be-

Chairman County Committee Democratic Platform.

The democracy of Pennsylvania unanimously de-ciare:
That the republican party, its measures and its men, are responsible for the financial distress, the interior and the want that now exist:
It has had control of the legislation of the country, and has enacted and perpetuated a policy that has enriched the few and impoverished the many; its system of finance has been one of favor to moneyed monopoly, of unequal taxation, of exemp-tion of riasses, of high rates of interest, and of re-morseless confraction, which has destroyed every enterprise that gave employment to labor. Its present hold upon federal power was secured by fraud, perjury and forgery. Its laws are unjust and its practices limitoral; they distress the peo-ple and destroy their substance.
The only remedy for these evits is an entire thange of policy and the dethronement of those in power.

The democracy of Pennsylvania unanimously de-

A close connection of the federal government with a business interests of the people, through nation-banks, tends to monopoly and centralization, but changing the system, uniformity of notes, securitation note holder, and protection of the capital rested, should be provided for. Treasury notes, issued in exchange for bonds, bearing a low rate of interest, is the best form in which excells of the government can be given to a paper greacy.

the credit of the government can be given to a paper purrency.

Labor and capital have equal demands upon and responsibilities to law. Commerce and manufactures should be encouraged, so that steady work and air wages may be yielded to labor, whilst safety of nive tenent and moderate returns for its use belong to capital. Violence or breach of order in supposed rights of either should be promitive suppressed by the strong arm of the law. The Republican party, by its legislation in 1873, which reduced the tariff ou bituminous coal from $1.55 to 75 cents per too, and upon Iron, steel, wool, metal's, paper, glass, leather, and all manufactures of each of them ten per cent, struck a fatal blow at the industries and labor of Fennaylvania.

The public lands are the common property of the people, and they should not be sold to speculators nor granted to redroad or other of peculators nor granted to redroad or other of peculators and table the should be redered for actual setters.

republican party, controlling the legislation of tate, has refused to execute many of the re-ior the new constitution; and among other s, it has neglected and refused, compet the acceptance of all its provisions by proportions of the state;

Thursday, September 5th is the last day pon which voters can be assessed, and Saturday,October 5th is the last day upon which tax can be paid, to secure a vote at the ensuing election. Persons who voted on age las year, should be particular to have their name placed upon the assessment, and pay their tax as above indicated, otherwise the law provides no way by which they can vote.

Democratic Duty.

The following so tersely stated by the Clear field Republican , is of the utmost important to every voter and every politician ; The regular assessment or registry lists for the coming fall election have already been made and are now to be found posted at the polling places in the various districts as required by law. Under the new constitution very person desiring to vote at the approachng November election must have resided for over twenty-two years of age, shall have paid within two years a state or county tax, which shall have been assessed at least two months and paid at least one month before the day of election. THE GREENBACK CONVENTION.

Last Saturday afternoon there was an unusual stir among the members of the new party, owing to the fact that delegates to the Convention were to be elected. This election was held at the club rooms in Furman's hall, and no one was admitted but known Greenbackers, lest outside parties should stuff the ballot boxes.

The Convention was held in Furman's hall on Tuesday afternoon, and organized by electing H. E. Smith President, and F. Herring, B. W. Lyons and Dr. J. B. Patton Secretaries. The following delegates were

THE NOMINATIONS. In making their nominations the Green backers followed the suggestions made by the COLUMBIAN, in the issue of April 19th in several instances, which shows that some of them, at least, are reading men. We nominated E. E. Orvis for them for Congress, and they ratified it. We nominated crowded off the track for that office and so Convention. We nominated Cyrus Robbins for Register & Recorder, and the Convention ratified it. We nominated A. B. Herring for Commissioner, and this also was accepted by the Greenbackers. The other nominations were as follows: Representatives, A. P. Young and J. R. Jamison; Prothonotary, U. H. Ent; Treasurer, H. C. Barton; Commissioner from south side, A. B. Fortner: Auditors, James Barry and F. S. Smith. Some of these nominations are very good ones, but the leading positions are filled by men who joined the new party only for office, and we are sorry to see that a number of excellent citizens of the County are allowing themselves to be led away by mer whose lives have been one long continued series of office hunts and political disap

The Convention was addressed by E. E. Orvis, A. C. Smith, A. P. Young and H. E. Smith, after which it adjourned.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 8, 1878.

The same sort of blindness which afflicte President Johnson has come upon Mr. Hayes. When only about one voter in hundred in the North cared anything about President Johnson he thought he was building up a party in that section. Some little local squable in Peoria, Illinois, gave the control of city affairs to people other than the regular party candidates. The President

So Mr. Hayes proves the breaking up of the Democratic party in the South, the Republican party there being dead alreadyby a purely local dispute among Democrats in Memphis, Tenn. There may be a district here and there in the South which will not send a Democratic Congressman here on the 4th of March next, but beyond that no man in his sober senses looks for Democratic degument of Manton Marble, just published tending to show that Mr. Tilden was vio lently opposed to the Electoral Commission Bill. But it is not conclusive. It shows be yond doubt two things : First, that Mr. Tilden, like every other Democrat, held to the doctrine that under the Constitution the two Houses had power to pass upon the electoral votes of the different States; and Second, that when he was informed of the Electoral Commission scheme, he objected to certain details of it for instance, the gambling in selecting one of its members but there is nothing in the papers presented by Mr. Marble to show that Mr. Tilden objected to the plan of allowing a Commission, authorized by the two Houses, to do the work assigned by the Constitution to the two

We have here very cheering reports from Indiana and Ohio, in which States Messr Voorhees and Thurman have opened the campaign for the Democrats. If Senator Thurman inspires the same confidence in his State that is felt in him in the Senate he is to be congratulated. No man ever occupies a more commanding position in that body than Senator Thurman at the last session.

Of the re-election of Senator Voorhees there seems to be little doubt, and at that all who are familiar with the Senator will re-General Benj. F. Butler has interviewe

ANCIENT BULWARKS OR RAMPARTS OF PARIS. CAPES AND CRYSTAL PAL-ACES EXTENDED TO THE DIMEN-SIGNS OF A CITY, DAZZLING DISPLAYS TIARAS OF DIAMONDS.

ETC., ETC.

Every great metropolis has, and has had centre-a heart, the focus of life, of character, and movement. In Rome, the Forum with its classic memories; in London, Regent street; in New York Broadway, and in Paris-modern Paris-the Boulevard Other points have been more central and more fashionable in the Paris of the past, for the Boulevards Interiors were once Exteriors and their history and chronology is known. But the Palais Royal, the Louvre, and other centres of attraction have been eclipsed by these Boulevards, which represent the type, the essence of Paris life in all its originality and piquancy. Formed in the seventeenth century, the Boulevards were at first the bulwarks or ramparts of Paris, when the night ingales frequented the groves replaced by the present Boulevards Haussman and Malesherbes, lovers strolled in the flowery fields about the Chaussee d'Antin. They have many interesting historical associations. Mongalfier, the inventor of balloons, lived in the Boulevard St. Denis; the assasin Fieschi pointed his infernal machine against Louis Philippe from No. 50 Boulevard du Temple, and the noted beauty, Ninon de L'Ecclos, lived on the same Boulevard, No. 23 : while the well known Boulevard des Italians, the zenith of Parisian animation in 1815, was inhabited by the celebrated comedian Regnard the rival of Moliere. What a transformation in the present day the shop windows with the blaze of Patisi the wealth of the Indies and Bonanzas, with A. C. Smith for Supreme Judge, but he was the rarest combinations of modern ingenuity and industry-a Crystal Palace extended to was nominated for State Senator by this the dimensions of a city, with avenues of light and passages of pleasure. All this must be seen to be understood or rather felt, for the general impression of the far-famed Boulevards is a much more powerful appeal to the passions, emotions, and, perhaps, to aesthetic sense, than to the thought or reason, more clearly typified in our more sober cities, the markets and marts of this age of

A heterogeneous crowd, which the delights of the French Capital have attracted from all parts of the world gaze, with rapture up on the scene of wonders. The dazzling dis-play of diamonds and other costly jeweis exhibited in the windows which are illuminated with gas by means of reflectors throwing a soft clear light and showing off these treasures to the best advantage. The win lows are in most cases rearranged expressly with a view to evening effect. Nowhere els can be seen such an attractive display of tiaras of diamonds and precious stones, ranging in price from five to two hundred thousand francs watches of every variety of style and every description of jewellery, glitter in the soft mellow light. Perfumery shops, also arranged with the most consummate skill mpregnating the air with delicious odors add to the fairy-like impressions of the scene Clothing establishments, marbles and pic tures, bronzes, fruit and pastry shops, in fact every thing can be found here in the greatest profusion. Every variety of form and device is resorted to in arranging gas lights and mirrors so as to produce the greatest effect. The names of many of the prinsaw in the accident proof that he and his cipal restaurants and cafes are emblazoned policy were strong in the affections of the people. 'Look' said he to a party of for- which is extremely beautiful while at the the item of expenditure in their endeavorto eclipse each other in brilliancy of display

This illumination continues until about mid night. A point of unusual attraction is the Grand Cafe upon the Boulevard des Capucines, corner of Rue Scribe : the largest and mos magnificent cafe in Paris, and probably in the world. The general effect from the opposite side is dazzling; the rooms are a blaze of light. It is said that 2000 persons congregate here at night to drink coffee, cognabsinthe, and peruse the leading journals The decoration and furniture of this cafe has cost nearly a million of francs. Its mair attraction is perhaps the exquisite pointing of the ceiling executed by artists of no les merit than Boulanger and Dulaney. A group of bacchantes and fauns on the ceiling of a drawing room, which measures thirtee metres in circumference is a work of artistic nerit which might be envied by any art collector. Upon the side walk, in front of the cafe, which are about thirty feet wide, and covered with asphaltum, like the streets, are arranged small tables and neat fancy chair made of iron, these are occupied, upon pleasant evenings, by persons of both sexes, regaling themselves with ices etc. The effect of this large crowd both within and without the cafe, the great profusion of gas lights, the numbers of which seem doubled and quadrupled by reflection from the immense mirrors on the walls, combine to produce a scene of unusual brilliancy and gayety.

Good news comes from the Schuylkill Valley. The resumption of mining operations means not only that the miners and their families are to have work and wages but that money is to be put in circulation throughout the whole region, and storekeepers and others benefitted by this kind of resumption. Railroads and ships are to be again busily employed in transporting the products of the mines to consumers, and work furnished to many thousands of now idle hands besides those of the miners. If a market could be found for all the coal that Pennsylvania mines and miners are capable will receive much respect among sensible people so long as it chooses for its leaders such men as Dennis Kearney. A leader is sadly needed who has something to say, for that is just what Kearney lacks. He is a man of remarkably little information, is possessed of no facts and therefore can give no weight to his speeches. All he does is swear at corporations and the newspapers, a thing every man is able to do for himself.

Kunkers and be convinced of its merits. Soid by druggists and storekeepers everywhere.
